

Who Were the Ancient Greeks?

The Ancient Greece civilisation on a timeline.
Different types of government in Ancient Greece - Athens and Sparta.
Daily life and religion in Ancient Greece.
Famous philosophers and scholars - Pythagoras, Socrates, Hippocrates, Plato, Aristotle and Archimedes
The legacy of the Ancient Greece - Olympic Games, the Greek language, Greek myths, and Greek government.

Vocabulary

Crime
Nowadays Punish Empire
Legal process
Citizens
Tablet
Curse
Trying Influence Metropolitan reform
Compensation
Weregild
Society
Fair
Invade
Outlawed
Court
Early modern period
Plot
Witchcraft
Transportation harsh

Crime and Punishment

The chronology of crime from Roman times to the 21st Century.

The Roman judicial system.

Paying Weregild in Anglo Saxon and Viking Times. Robin Hood.

Crime and punishment in the Tudor period.

The Gunpowder plot.

Poachers, smugglers and highwaymen.

Crime during the Victorian Era - using Oliver Twist to look at child criminality.

To understand how crime and punishment has changed since Roman times or have a class debate to establish if there is more crime now than in the past

(Stories of Lynn)

Pupils will build on their knowledge of the substantive concepts: Society

The Roman Judicial System and the Curse tablet

What was weregild and how was it used?

- Weregild, which means blood price, was a system of fines where, if you injured someone, the victim received money.
- If a person killed someone, they paid the weregild fine to the dead person's relatives.
- The King set the fines and there was a system of payments:

Injury	Fine
Broken thigh	12 shillings
Loss of a thumb	20 shillings
Loss of an eye	50 shillings

The Anglo Saxon and Viking system of paying Weregild.

Anglo-Saxon silver pennies. Coins like these would have been used to pay fines and weregild.

The Bloody Code

MS 1700
Greek capitals. Greece, 5th c. BC

